

962-39-758

Hassan Sedaghat* (hsedagha@vcu.edu), Department of Mathematical Sciences, Virginia Commonwealth University, P.O. Box 842014, Richmond, VA 23284-2014, and Wendi Wang, Department of Mathematics, Southwest Normal University, 400715 Chong Qing, Peoples Rep of China. Asymptotic Behavior of a Class of Nonlinear Delay Difference Equations from Economics.

Sufficient conditions for permanence, global attractivity and persistent oscillations will be given for a class of continuous, higher order, nonlinear difference equations that are derived from a model of productivity growth for R&D. (Received September 25, 2000)