Robert T. Harger* (rharger@acme.highpoint.edu), Department of Mathematics & Computer Science, Box 3430, High Point University, High Point, NC 27262. Creating a Useful Senior Seminar Experience.

We will discuss the senior seminar course in mathematics at High Point University. High Point University is a liberal arts institution with approximately 1600 traditional day students. Every student is required to complete a senior seminar to graduate. We will consider the general outline of the course as it pertains to selection of topics, timeline for the course, requirements of the students, requirements of faculty, and a “reasonable” procedure to evaluate the students.
