

1014-K1-934

Jonathan E Rubin* (rubin@math.pitt.edu), Department of Mathematics, University of Pittsburgh, 301 Thackeray Hall, Pittsburgh, PA 15260. Catch the Buzz: the Annual Integration Bee(s) at Pitt.

For each of the last five years, we have staged a successful Integration Bee for undergraduate students at the University of Pittsburgh. Last year, we had our first high school Integration Bee. I will discuss the logistics of how we run our Integration Bee and will show some examples of the types of integrals that we use. Hopefully this will be useful for others wishing to hold similar events at their institutions. (Received September 26, 2005)