

1035-A0-2057      James A. Morrow*, University of Washington, Seattle, WA. Motivation in Mathematics and Undergraduate Research.

In this talk, I will give a brief introduction to inverse problems for electrical networks. The topic is well suited for introducing students to mathematical research and motivating them to study mathematics. (Received September 21, 2007)