

1068-57-198

Kenneth L Baker* (kenken@math.miami.edu), 1365 Memorial Drive, Ungar 515, Coral Gables, FL 33146, and John B Etnyre and Jeremy Van Horn-Morris. Cables of Open Books and their Contact Structures.

Cabling is an operation that transforms an open book into another while preserving the ambient manifold. We study how this operation affects the contact structures supported by these open books. This is done in the generalized context of rational open books where a page may meet a point in the binding with greater multiplicity than 1. Rational open books arise naturally when studying Dehn surgery on fibered knots. (Received January 18, 2011)