Runchang Lin* (rlin@tamiu.edu), 5201 University Boulevard, LBVSC 317, Laredo, TX 78041.

A finite element simulation of the FitzHugh-Nagumo equations.

In this talk, a least-squares finite element algorithm is developed to solve the FitzHugh-Nagumo equations. The present method is stable and accurate. Numerical results are given to demonstrate the performance of the algorithm in long-time integrations. (Received February 09, 2014)