

1097-58-201

Ralph M Kaufmann* (rkaufman@math.purdue.edu), Purdue, Department of Mathematics, West Lafayette, IN 47907, Birgit Wehefritz-Kaufmann, Purdue, Department of Mathematics, West Lafayette, IN 47907, and Sergei Khlebnikov, Purdue, Department of Physics, West Lafayette, IN 47907. Singularities, swallowtails and topological properties in families of Hamiltonians,.

We discuss the results of our joint work on families of Hamiltonians. In particular, we describe a characteristic map to the unfolding of an A-type singularity which allows one to characterize the singularities in the spectrum. The motivation comes from a concrete material and its effective C*-geometry.

We also comment on further new developments like symmetries and non-commutative aspects. (Received January 22, 2014)