

1118-32-72

Hideki Miyachi* (miyachi@math.sci.osaka-u.ac.jp), Department of Mathematics, Graduate School of Science, Osaka University, Machikaneyama 1-1, Toyonaka, Osaka 560-0043, Japan.

Complex analysis on Teichmüller space with extremal length.

In this talk, I will talk about complex analytic properties of Teichmüller space by using extremal length functions. Indeed, we will discuss the plurisubharmonicity of extremal length functions. If time permits, I would like to give my motivation for the results and a (conjectural) perspective of future research. (Received January 20, 2016)