Quantitative inequalities for the expected lifetime of the Brownian motion.

The isoperimetric-type inequality for the expected lifetime of the Brownian motion states that the $L^p$ norm of the expected lifetime in a region is maximized when the region is a ball with the same volume. In this talk, we discuss a quantitative improvement of the inequalities and related open problems. (Received February 04, 2019)