Christina Pospisil* (pospisil.christina@gmx.de). Generalization Theory of Linear Algebra. An algorithm for multiplying and adding matrices regardless of dimensions via an embedding is presented. An equivalent embedding for a general determinant theory is also investigated. In future work there will be applications to physics and other natural sciences be explored. (Received February 14, 2019)