We describe a common mathematical framework for the design of additive and non-additive Quantum Error Correcting Codes that is based on a correspondence between boolean functions and projection operators. The new framework extends to operator quantum error correcting codes. (Received January 09, 2007)