The most comprehensive and up-to-date Mathematics Calendar information is available on e-MATH at <http://www.ams.org/mathcal/>.

August 2000

August–December MSRI Program in Algorithmic Number Theory, Mathematical Sciences Research Institute, Berkeley, California. (Sept. 1998, p. 1054)

Focus: Number theory has always been intertwined with computation, and over the last 20 years the influx of new ideas, concerns, and techniques has continued unabated. Its interconnections with cryptography, arithmetic algebraic geometry and theoretical complexity, make algorithmic number theory an ideal MSRI topic at this time. Specific areas of active interest are elliptic curves, factoring, lattice basis reduction, discrete logarithms, higher genus curves, and finite fields. There are tensions here: between explicit computations and asymptotic questions of complexity; between elementary and advanced methods; between practical considerations and, in the case of cryptography, abstract notions of “security”. These tensions provide a rich source of inspiration and will encourage interaction between disparate groups. These programs will be sequenced as above in overlapping segments.

Program Committee: J. Buhler, H. Lenstra.

Information: For more details, visit <http://www.msri.org/>.

August–May MSRI Program in Operator Algebras, Mathematical Sciences Research Institute, Berkeley, California. (Sept. 1998, p. 1054)

Focus: Since the 1984–85 MSRI program in operator algebras, developments have continued at a rapid pace, and interactions with other fields such as elementary particle physics and quantum groups continue to grow.

Topics: These topics will be emphasized: noncommutative geometry; simple  $C^*$  algebras; noncommutative dynamical systems; subfactors; quantization; algebraic quantum field theory; free probability theory; operator spaces. These programs will be sequenced

This section contains announcements of meetings and conferences of interest to some segment of the mathematical public, including ad hoc, local, or regional meetings, and meetings and symposia devoted to specialized topics, as well as announcements of regularly scheduled meetings of national or international mathematical organizations. A complete list of meetings of the Society can be found on the last page of each issue.

An announcement will be published in the Notices if it contains a call for papers and specifies the place, date, subject (when applicable), and the speakers; a second announcement will be published only if there are changes or necessary additional information. Once an announcement has appeared, the event will be briefly noted in every third issue until it has been held and a reference will be given in parentheses to the month, year, and page of the issue in which the complete information appeared. Asterisks (*) mark those announcements containing new or revised information.

In general, announcements of meetings and conferences held in North America carry only the date, title of meeting, place of meeting, names of speakers (or sometimes a general statement on the program), deadlines for abstracts or contributed papers, and source of further information. Meetings held outside the North American area may carry more detailed information. In any case, if there is any application deadline with respect to participation in the meeting, this fact should be noted. All communications on meetings and conferences in the mathematical sciences as above in overlapping segments.

Program Committee: A. Connes, E. G. Effros, U. Haagerup, M. A. Rieffel (co-chair), D. Voiculescu (co-chair).

Information: For more details, visit <http://www.msri.org/>.

21 Geometric and Topological Methods in Concurrency Theory, A Satellite to CONCUR '2000, Pennsylvania State University, State College, Pennsylvania. (Apr. 2000, p. 502)

Workshop Topics: This workshop follows last year's “Geometric and Topological Methods in Concurrency Theory” meeting held at Aalborg University, Denmark. The aim is to bring together researchers that apply geometric, topological and algebraic topological methods to formalize and analyze dynamical, concurrent and distributed systems. The spirit of the meeting will be informal and will focus on exchange of information and discussion. It will consist of a number of tutorials, invited talks, together with accepted papers. Abstracts and work in progress reports are encouraged.

Submission Deadline: May 19, 2000.

Information: GETCO'00: <http://www.dmi.ens.fr/~goubault/getco.html>; CONCUR'00: <http://www.cse.psu.edu/concur2000/>; EXPRESS'00: <http://www.docs.uu.se/~victor/Express/express00.shtml>; GETCO'99: <http://www.math.auc.dk/~raussen/admin/workshop/workshop.html>.

21–24 International Conference on Geometry, Analysis, and Applications (In Honor of Late Professor V. K. Patodi), Banaras Hindu University, Varanasi, India. (Jan. 2000, p. 82)

Conference Themes: Recent developments in differential geometry, classical and modern analysis, generalized functions, partial differential equations and applications. Symposia on (i) Atiyah–Patodi–Singer Index Theorem, (ii) Wavelets and applications.

Invites Speakers: Sir Michael Atiyah (Cambridge), I. M. Singer (MIT), should be sent to the Editor of the Notices in care of the American Mathematical Society in Providence or electronically to notices@ams.org or mathcal@ams.org.

In order to allow participants to arrange their travel plans, organizers of meetings are urged to submit information for these listings early enough to allow them to appear in more than one issue of the Notices prior to the meeting in question. To achieve this, listings should be received in Providence six months prior to the scheduled date of the meeting.

The complete listing of the Mathematics Calendar will be published only in the September issue of the Notices. The March, June, and December issues will include, along with new announcements, references to any previously announced meetings and conferences occurring within the twelve-month period following the month of those issues. New information about meetings and conferences that will occur later than the twelve-month period will be announced once in full and will not be repeated until the date of the conference or meeting falls within the twelve-month period.

13-15 7th DIMACS Implementation Challenge: Semidefinite and Related Optimization Problems, DIMACS Center, Rutgers University, Piscataway, New Jersey. (May 2000, p. 595)

Short Description: In the past few years much has been learned about the kinds of problem classes that SDP can tackle, the best SDP algorithms for the various classes, and the various limits of the current approaches to solving SDP's. Similar to, and indeed an extension of, semidefinite programming, a great deal is known about optimization with convex quadratic constraints as well as the limitation of current methods. This workshop attempts to distill and expand upon accumulated knowledge. We have collected a variety of interesting and challenging SDP instances, whose solution would expand our knowledge on the applicability of SDP.

Deadline for Submissions: March 30, 2000: Progress reports due for comment and feedback. This should mostly be helpful to newcomers to the area. * 2-3 7th Dimacs Implementation Challenge: Semidefinite and Related Optimization Problems, Dimacs Center, Rutgers University, Piscataway, New Jersey.

Sponsors: Dimacs Center.

Short Description: In the past few years much has been learned about the kinds of problem classes that SDP can tackle, the best SDP algorithms for the various classes, and the various limits of the current approaches to solving SDP's. Similar to, and indeed an extension from, semidefinite programming, a great deal is known about optimization with convex quadratic constraints as well as limitation of current methods. This workshop attempts to distill and expand upon accumulated knowledge. We have collected a variety of interesting and challenging SDP instances whose solution would expand our knowledge of the applicability of SDP.

The beginning of the new millennium seems appropriate to reflect on the current developments and to specify new promising directions of research in this classical area of mathematics. Emphasis will be given to various applications, in particular, in mathematical physics. We would also like to celebrate the 60th birthday of our colleague and friend, Wolfhard Hansen, on the afternoon of February 22.

Topics: The conference will include the topics: differential geometry, Dirichlet forms, fractals, linear and nonlinear PDE, Schrödinger operators, Markov processes, stochastic analysis.

Information: Anyone interested in taking part in the conference should contact the organizers via e-mail. Further information will be provided soon. V.
