American Mathematical Society—Contributions

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

During 2001 you provided support to our society, and much of that support was directed at the future of our profession—the young mathematicians. I thank each of you for your generous support of these talented students.

Last year we carried out the Young Scholars program using resources from our Program Development Fund and our Epsilon Fund (an endowment fund). The Young Scholars program supports summer high school workshops aimed at our most talented students to help them understand the elegance, power, and beauty of mathematics. In 2002, we are continuing to provide grants to students using these funds. The Centennial Fellowship program also plays a major role for young mathematicians in the formative stages of their careers, from three to twelve years beyond their degree. In 2001, we awarded three new Centennial Fellowships to outstanding young mathematicians through a program funded entirely by contributions from the community, matched by the Society. Of course, we continue to use General Fund contributions for the support of many other projects—expanding employment services, public awareness, outreach in Washington, and our extensive publications program.

Without your contributions, it would not be possible for the Society to establish and maintain such programs. Again, thank you for your support.

John H. Ewing

Annual Gifts to the AMS

The officers and staff of the Society acknowledge with gratitude the following donors whose contributions were received during the 2001 calendar year. Last year, in the September issue of Notices, we reported contributions received during the period April 1, 2000, to March 31, 2001. We have changed the reporting period to a calendar year, and will continue to report on that basis in the future. This change will result in the reporting of contributions for the first three months of 2001 in both last year's report and this year's report.

* The names of donors who have given for three years consecutively are marked with an asterisk. Donors whose contributions total $1,000 or more annually are recognized with their names affixed to a plaque in the lobby of the Society's headquarters in Providence.

Gifts in Memory and Gifts in Honor

The American Mathematical Society welcomes gifts made in memory or honor of members of the mathematical community or others. Unless directed toward a special fund or program, such gifts are used to support the general mission of the Society.

Donors of Memorial and In Honor Gifts, and those remembered, are listed in Notices of the American Mathematical Society and thus become part of the permanent archive of the Society.
