
American Mathematical Society—Contributions

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

During 2002 your contributions helped the Society and our profession in many ways. I thank each of you for your generous support.

The Young Scholars program supports summer high school workshops for our most talented students, who represent the future of our profession. We used the Program Development Fund and our Epsilon Fund for the program in its initial phases. Now we are building an endowment for the program—the Epsilon Fund—and we hope to reach our goal of two million dollars over the next few years. Young scholars programs really work; supporting them is important.

The Centennial Fellowships continue to play a key role for outstanding young mathematicians at the formative stages of their careers, from three to twelve years beyond the degree. The fellowships are entirely funded by contributions, which are partially matched by income from the Society's investments. And we use contributions to the General Fund to support all of our activities—employment services, public awareness, outreach in Washington, and our publications.

Your contributions make a difference. Your generosity allows the Society to establish and maintain the kinds of programs mentioned above. Again, thank you for your support.

Gifts in Memory and Gifts in Honor

The American Mathematical Society welcomes gifts made in memory or honor of members of the mathematical community or others. Unless directed toward a special fund or program, such gifts are used to support the general mission of the Society.

Donors of Memorial and In Honor Gifts, and those remembered, are listed in Notices of the American Mathematical Society and thus become part of the permanent archive of the Society.
