

CALL FOR Nominations

The selection committees for these prizes request nominations for consideration for the 2005 awards, which will be presented at the Joint Mathematics Meetings in Atlanta, GA, in January 2005. Information about these prizes may be found in the November 2003 Notices, pp. 1289-1299 (also available at <http://www.ams.org/prizes-awards>).

BÔCHER MEMORIAL PRIZE

The Bôcher Memorial Prize, founded in 1923 in honor of Maxime Bôcher, is awarded every three years for a notable paper in analysis published during the preceding six years. To be eligible, the nominee should be a member of the American Mathematical Society or the paper should have been published in a recognized North American journal.

LEVI L. CONANT PRIZE

The Levi L. Conant Prize, first awarded in January 2001, is presented annually for an outstanding expository paper published in either the Notices or the Bulletin of the American Mathematical Society during the preceding five years.

FRANK NELSON COLE PRIZE IN NUMBER THEORY

The Frank Nelson Cole Prizes in Algebra and Number Theory are now presented at three year intervals. The award in January 2005 will be for a notable paper in number theory. The nominee should be a member of the American Mathematical Society or the paper should have been published in a recognized North American journal.

RUTH LYTTLE SATTER PRIZE

The Ruth Lyttle Satter Prize is presented every two years in recognition of an outstanding contribution to mathematics research by a woman during the previous six years.

ALBERT LEON WHITEMAN MEMORIAL PRIZE

The Albert Leon Whiteman Memorial Prize is awarded every four years, for notable exposition on the history of mathematics. The ideas expressed and understandings embodied in that exposition should reflect exceptional mathematical scholarship.

Nominations should be submitted to the Secretary, Robert J. Daverman, American Mathematical Society, 312D Ayres Hall, University of Tennessee, Knoxville TN 37996-1330. Include a short description of the work that is the basis of the nomination, with complete bibliographic citations when appropriate. A brief curriculum vita of the nominee also should be included. The nominations will be forwarded by the Secretary to the appropriate prize selection committee, which, as in the past, will make final decisions on the awarding of these prizes.

Deadline for nominations is June 30, 2004.
