

About the Cover

Extraordinary phenomenon

This month's cover was produced by Douglas Arnold and Jonathan Rogness from the video they describe in their article in this issue. The "extraordinary phenomenon" is the amount of attention it has attracted. This ought to reinforce among all of us the notion that mathematics, if explained well and in spite of its reputation, has a potentially huge audience of admirers.

—Bill Casselman, Graphics Editor
(notices-covers@ams.org)

