

GOOD MATH.

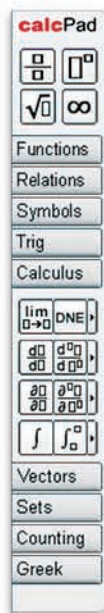

IT'S WEBASSIGN, ONLY BETTER.

Only WebAssign is supported by every publisher and supports every course in the curriculum from developmental math to calculus and beyond. That's good. Now we've added the latest homework tools to bring you the ultimate learning environment for math. That's better.

Welcome to a better WebAssign. There are new tools — including calcPad, that lets students enter higher level mathematical functions, then automatically assesses their work. There are more books, over 170 titles from every major publisher. And there's more server capacity with an expanded support team just waiting to serve you and over half a million loyal WebAssign users each term. It's the culmination of a team-wide effort to build the best WebAssign ever.

The ingenuity of WebAssign for math. It's available now and it's free to faculty at WebAssign.net. Now what could be better than that?

calcPad lets students easily enter higher-level mathematical functions, then automatically assesses them.

Visit www.webassign.net to sign up for your free faculty account today.