

Call for Authors

Encyclopedia of Mathematics and Society

We are inviting academic editorial contributors to a new reference work on the role of mathematics in everyday life to be published by Salem Press in 2011. This comprehensive encyclopedia will be sold to high-school, college, public, and academic libraries and includes 3 volumes of approximately 500 articles. We are now making article assignments with a deadline of August 1, 2010.

Each article ranges from 600 to 3500 words and is signed by the contributor. The General Editors for the encyclopedia are Drs. Sarah Greenwald and Jill Thomley, Appalachian State University, who will review all the articles for editorial content and academic consistency. Compensation to contributors is an honorarium payment of $25 up to 1000 words; $35 from 1001 to 2500 words; and $45 above 2501 words.

The list of available articles, style guidelines, and sample article are prepared and will be sent to you in response to your inquiry. Please then select which unassigned articles may best suit your interests and expertise.

Please contact the e-mail address below and include a brief summary of your background in math and social topics.
