

1150-00-523

Timothy Bays* (timothy.bays.5@nd.edu). Model Theory and the Philosophy of Mathematics.

In the last 20 years, philosophers have turned their attention away from broad issues concerning the metaphysics and epistemology of mathematics and focused more intently on the philosophical significance of specific mathematical results. This talk will trace some recent work involving the intersection of philosophy and model theory. (Received July 15, 2019)