THE NOVEMBER MEETING AT LOS ANGELES

The five hundred sixty-second meeting of the American Mathematical Society was held at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California on November 21, 1959. There were 117 registrants at this meeting, including 109 members of the Society.

By invitation of the Committee to Select Hour Speakers for Far Western Sectional Meetings, Professor John Todd of the California Institute of Technology addressed the Society on Conformal mapping and computers. He was introduced by Professor C. B. Tompkins.

There were two sessions for contributed papers, presided over by Professors Edwin Hewitt and Morgan Ward.

R. S. PIERCE,
Associate Secretary