Northwestern University invites nominations for the Frederic Esser Nemmers Prize in Mathematics, to be awarded during the 2019–20 academic year. The prize pays the recipient $200,000.

Candidacy for the Nemmers Prize is open to those with careers of outstanding achievement in their disciplines as demonstrated by major contributions to new knowledge or the development of significant new modes of analysis. Individuals of all nationalities and institutional affiliations are eligible except current or recent members of the Northwestern University faculty and recipients of the Nobel Prize.

The 2020 Nemmers Prize recipient will deliver a public lecture and participate in other scholarly activities at Northwestern University for 10 weeks during the 2020–21 academic year.

Nominations will be accepted until December 1, 2019. The online submission form at nemmers.northwestern.edu requires the nominee’s CV and one nominating letter of no more than 1,000 words describing the nominee’s professional experience, accomplishments, and qualifications for the award. Nominations from experts in the field are preferred to institutional nominations; self-nominations will not be accepted. Please email questions to nemmers@northwestern.edu.

The Nemmers Prizes are made possible by a generous gift to Northwestern University by the late Erwin Esser Nemmers and the late Frederic Esser Nemmers.
