The Journal of Mathematical Logic (JML) aims to publish original research papers at the highest level of mathematical creativity and sophistication.

JML intends to represent the most important and innovative developments in the subject.